

The GC Way Gallery & Exhibit

Assisting people, including leaders and their organizations, in making decisions to have a shift in consciousness to live their full potential, creating breakthroughs in their personal lives and in their organizations. [She] imagines that organizations everywhere can achieve their true wealth and fulfill their chosen purpose, vision, and goals. [She] imagines that through nourishing a culture of leadership in organizations, life-depleting choices will fade into the past and life-nourishing choices will be made benefitting people, society, and the environment for us and the generations that follow.

The world I want to see (how the world is better with the Genuine Contact Way in it)

The world I want to see is one where all life is precious. It is one where people are able to follow their creativity while being aware of how their one voice is part of many, and in that way all that we do has consequences for the other. And this is something we are able to practice and learn to do well, being individuals and collectively bound.

The world I want to see is one where people are equipped to live free, to have perspective, to be aware of their choices and to make them anyway. It is a world where uniqueness is cherished and where, it is possible to thrive, in unique ways beyond all the posturing and boxes that I feel are often around in society. It is a world where people, and their organizations, live in harmony with the rest of creation, knowing that there is both beauty and ugliness that will be there. It is a world where we humans are able to live in and with the world as it is, and from there make creative contributions.

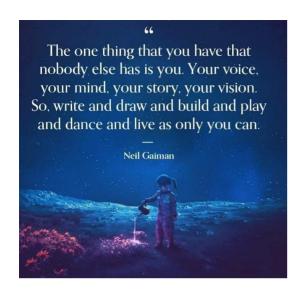

What people working the GC Way (like me!) do to make this world happen.

We do our best to live as above. We offer our services in whatever way and with whatever language we have to others who are also wanting to live like this. We take care of ourselves, we hone our skills, we stay curious, we stay open, we believe it is possible, especially in the moments it doesn't feel like it is. For some of us, (like me) this may include working with leaders and organizations or communities as consultants, for others it may be working inside an organization or dedicating their learning to their family and personal life. The place and position doesn't matter. What does matter is to be available to learn and to show up in the outside world, to the best of your ability each day, in this way.

The world I want to see (how the world is better with the Genuine Contact Way in it)

The world I want to see is for all people to be in touch with the inherent goodness that they are. I choose this wisdom from the author Neil Gaiman to enhance what I am wanting to convey about people being people, people as precious.

What people working the GC Way (like me!) do to make this world happen

When Ward was asked 'what do you do?', his answer was and is 'we make magic'. Depending on the person asking the question, they would either say nothing and end the conversation, or, and this occurred more frequently, they would ask to be told more. We work as light bringers, magic makers and world shifters. From these gifts we challenge, break open, uplift and expand. We encourage people as individuals and in teams to expand into their beautiful potential.

I was inspired by this fruit, citrus medic sarcodactylis. Very fragrant, and also sensitive - to too much cold and too much heat. Also called Manu de Buda, Fingers of Buddha. Signifying Luck and Prosperity.

The world I want to see (how the world is better with the Genuine Contact Way in it)

A world where each individual is in Genuine Contact with Self, Others, and Creation is a sustainable World. To be able to be in Genuine Contact in this way, there is a need to develop better skills in conscious dialogue with the Self and the Other about our visions, purpose, intentions, resources, and how we invite the Other to be part of a shared future.

The pictures illustrate the same and bridge my connection between my life as a mother, grandmother and leader, influenced by my Master of Social Science and Genuine Contact theory. To let Change happen, you must connect to others holistically, bridging all the parts to an achievable and attractive whole for the individual to engage with, relating to others, organizations, and Society in a Capacity building spiral of constant learning. Learning requires the skills of reflecting, questioning assumptions and beliefs of Self and Others, and active dialogue through active listening, rephrasing and building upon each other's contributions to form a shared understanding for action in a common future.

What people working the GC Way (like me!) do to make this world happen.

I continuously invite people to and take part in Workshops and meetings, where we learn and practice the GC Way while working with genuine cases, mentoring each other, and training leadership skills based on the GC Program, guided by a gualified GC Trainer.

The world I want to see is a natural and joyful world where everyone has their place, where everyone is valuable and where love is the dominant energy. With the GC Way we create, stabilize and sustain the foundation for a loving world for the coming generations, because the GC way is in itself a natural way of collaborating for common causes.

What we can do to make this happen is to place ourselves in leadership positions where we can live and work the GC Way, both in our private and professional lives, where we can be mentors by showing how we tend to our balance, enjoy all the small and big moments of joy in life and invite the fairies to land in our forest or backyard.

The world I want to see (how the world is better with the Genuine Contact Way in it)
A world where each person is seen and treated as precious. Where each of us is afforded the luxury of spending our time in life-nourishing environments where we thrive in purposeful work. A world where passion and personal mission easily and readily intersect with work. A world where the organizations where we each choose to spend our time build people up while making a positive difference in the local community.

What people working the GC Way (like me!) do to make this world happen

Working inside organizations or as external supports, we offer tools and approaches for creating life-nourishing environments where work gets done thoroughly and well. We do this through supporting organizations in development processes and with training to increase capacity for working in participatory and holistic ways. Our local and international GC hubs are leading by example, inviting people to experience the magic of the Genuine Contact way of working and living.

Why does the Genuine Contact Way matter? (How does the GCW fulfill people's needs or provide solutions?)

it is the future skill without which we cannot survive

because it is essential we work in harmony with ourselves and our environment Because constant disfunction is a waste of energy

because in this world of wicked problems there is no single person knowing it all - and no one best answer

Becau of..

Because we know how to make this transition from the old world to the new world Because we are really good at teaching others how to do so.

Because if you continue to just act without perspective you continue to create the problems you wanted to address

We need to build capacity to go through this rapidly changing and diverse society

Why does the Genuine Contact Way matter? (How does the GCW fulfill people's needs or provide solutions?)
